

Daniel Mulhern

Composer / Singer/songwriter

Daniel spent his formative years developing his compositional skills with art student films and animations and as guitarist in various bands. Since getting stranded in Stockholm after a brief period of globe trotting, he moved back to London and has been establishing a career as a composer and songwriter. As a television composer his creative versatility is demonstrated by the variety of his work ranging from serious documentary series like; How Art Made The World [BBC], Alternative Medicine [BBC] and Attack on the Wires; to entertainment shows such as, Derren Brown [Ch4/Objective TV], Balls of Steel [Ch4/Objective TV], and, A Perfect Night In with Matt Lucas & David Walliams, Simon Pegg & Nick Frost, and Lenny Henry [Ch4/Objective TV]. Recent work includes a Monty Python documentary for BBC America titled, Before the Flying Circus; Dickens Secret Lover, a 1 x 60 drama doc as part of the Victorian Passions season for Channel 4, and additional programming and guitars for the new series of Silent Witness [BBC drama]. Songwriting collaborators include Craig Gannon (The Smiths, Terry Hall, Roddy Frame), producers Ken Thomas and Grantby, and composer Adrian Johnston, whose scores he has regularly performed on and whose work with Stephen Poliakoff has seen Daniel provide songs for the BBC films Perfect Strangers, Friends and Crocodiles and Capturing Mary. Other TV dramas Daniel's songs have appeared in include The Commander and Kay Mellor's Gifted.
